LIBERAL PARTY OFFERS CUBAN PEACE PLAN

Machado Group Submits Counter Proposal to U. S. Ambassador.

PROVIDES FOR CHANGE

Would Have President Surrender Office To Herrera, Secretary of War.

By The Associated Press

HAVANA, Aug. 11—Members of the executive committee of President Gerardo Machado's own Liberal party said today that the government had submitted to United States Ambassador Sumner Welles a counter-proposal by which the president would surrender his office to General Alberto Herrera, the present secretary of war.

The Popular and Conservative parties already have demanded that the president step down, and now his own political organization has come forward with a plan accomplishing the same object.

The action of the Liberals in part reversed their decision yesterday when they held that Ambassador Welles was guilty of "inter-meddling" and that his mediation activities were prejudicial to the sovereignty of Cuba.

Report Confirmed

Ramon de Leon and a number of members of the Liberal executive committee gave confirmation that the counter-proposal had been submitted.

By this plan the present secretary of state, Orestes Ferrara, would resign and general Herrara would be appointed by President Machado to his post.

Thereafter General Machado would ask congress for a leave of absence, thus opening the way for General Herrera to succeed to the presidency, in conformity with the provision of the Cuban constitution.

General Herrera's occupancy of the presidency would be transitory, it was said. The reason behind the proposal that he take the position at all is that the Liberal party, to which President Machado belongs, is unwilling to surrender power immediately without a period of readjustment. General Herrera also is a Liberal.

Once he ascended to the presidency, General Herrera would form a national cabinet representing all the political factions, and the work of mediation in the nation's political conflict would be continued.

Police Car Bombed

As the drive to oust Machado neared its climax today a huge bomb was exploded beneath a Havana street car loaded with policemen, seven of whom were injured, one perhaps fatally. The car was carrying the policemen to their beats.

Meanwhile interior cities reported that, as a result of the general strike which has turned into a revolutionary movement, the food shortage was fast becoming acute.

It was expected that the Liberal party would modify its declaration against what the liberals termed the "intermeddling" of Ambassador Welles. The ambassador has submitted a mediation plan, the keystone of which is the resignation of General Machado.

The party's executive committee adopted the resolution yesterday declaring that the American envoy's activities for peace in the last few weeks were prejudicial to Cuban sovereignty, but later named three leaders to redraft the strong pronouncement.

Ambassador Welles, attacked and defended for his efforts, meanwhile became the storm center of the Cuban political tumult, which entered the state of a passive revolution with the spread of a general strike.

Backed by Roosevelt

Welles said he was acting with President Roosevelt's support. Machado himself has said he will not give up his office—that he has

CAMP OF GUARDSMEN LEVELED BY GALE

Tornado Injures Many, Causes Heavy Damage in Seaboard State.

By The Associated Press

LEWES, Del., Aug. 11—A short-lived tornado which swept in from the sea leveled every tent in the Delaware national guard camp near Bethany Beach, unroofed buildings and injured many of the 800 guardsmen early today.

Only three persons received severe cuts or bruises, all of them from falling tent poles, but the scheduled closing of the camp today will have to be postponed at least a day because of the damage.

A torrent of rain fell while officers and men clad in pajamas struggled to bring order out of chaos.

What was not torn by the wind was waterlogged by the downpour. Adjutant General Willis E. Stover, who took charge of the restoration work, said the loss would be "very great."

Lasting only three minutes, the tornado was gone before most of the men knew what had brought the tents down on their heads. Eyewitnesses said the twister looked like a "spiral full of water," and many expressed the belief that it came from the sun, only a few black clouds

NEW RAILWAY ORDERS SEEN

Wall Street Expects Carriers To Commence Expenditures on Rolling Stock.

TRAFFIC EARNINGS HIGHER

Improvements Must Be Made To Care for Increasing Business Volume.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—Brighter days for the factories which build the rolling stock for American railroads are expected by transportation experts in Wall street who have been studying reports that several important carriers are on the verge of signing some large orders.

While there was nothing specific as to which railroads were ready to talk business with the manufacturers of locomotives, freight cars and other equipment, interests close to the industry said that recent developments make early purchases prudent.

Business Improving

They pointed out that present equipment has proven adequate to handle the recent reduced volume of business, but with the carriers enjoying better than a seasonal pickup in car loadings, and the outlook bright for continuance of the recovery, rolling stock soon must be augmented and obsolete equipment replaced.

With railroad traffic and earnings on a sharp upward trend carriers with a good cash reserve will be enabled to loosen the purse strings that have been closely tied during the lean years. Executives breathed easier when the interstate commerce commission last week gave an emphatic "no" to demands that they order a sweeping general reduction in freight rates. It removed a serious threat to their revenue.

Are Big Spenders

Carriers are not only one of the largest employers of labor in the country, but also rank as one of the largest units from the standpoint of purchasing power.

In the 10-year period, starting in 1922, they spent a gross total for capital expenditures of $7,700,000,000 of which $3,402,930,000 went for equipment. Last year they bought only 37 locomotives, and 3,173 freight and passenger cars costing only $36,371,000. In normal years carriers order about 1,000 locomotives and 60,000 to 90,000 freight cars.

CODE SUBMITTED BY BARBERS' UNION

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 — A code for barbers was forwarded to Washington today by officers of the Journeyman Barbers International Union of America.

If the code is approved, the minimum cost of a hair cut will be 50 cents and for a shave 25 cents.

It provides for a 48-hour week of six days, a minimum wage of $25 and 60 per cent of chair receipts or $37 weekly wage.

HOME LOAN OFFICES OPEN THROUGHOUT OHIO TODAY

Marion Airport To Get U.S. Licensed Repair Shop

To Be One of Six in Ohio; Company Headed by Harold Cobb Is Incorporated.

The Marion airport will take on a new importance in Ohio aviation circles in a short time when the Marion Flying Service, Inc. opens its government approved aircraft repair station.

Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with the secretary of state by the Marion Flying Service, Inc., which has been operating the airport for several years. Harold Cobb is president of the new corporation, which is capitalized at $10,000. George Clyde of Chicago is vice president and Mrs. Ada Mae Cobb is secretary treasurer. They are the incorporators.

Shop Erected

A 40 by 22-foot steel shop has been erected on a section of the airport land leased from the city for 10 years. Cobb announced. Machinery for woodworking, metal working, engine repair have been ordered and are expected to arrive in two weeks. The equipment will be installed to meet government specifications for repair, overhauling and maintenance of licensed aircraft. Approximately $5,000 will be invested in this branch of the service.

Clyde is a government licensed airplane and engine mechanic. He was employed for 15 years in the experimental division of the Wright aeronautical plant at Patterson, N. J., and had charge of all maintenance at the Curtiss-Reynolds airport in Chicago for four years. He has been connected with aviation work since 1911.

Only Five Others

Only five other Ohio cities have U. S. approved repair stations. These are located at Columbus, Toledo, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Hudson.

The service will maintain two airplanes for passenger flights.

Wedding Party Accident Costs Bridegroom's Life

By The Associated Press

WARREN, O., Aug. 11—Tragedy overtook a wedding party enroute to Pittsburgh early today, when two automobiles collided on a main highway near Niles, and a prospective bridegroom was killed.

The accident occurred at Clines Corners, O., in a thick fog about 2 a. m. Charles Collins of Sharon, Pa., the prospective bridegroom, was killed instantly. Miss Rilla Hollbaugh of Middlesex, Pa., his fiancee, was pinned beneath Collins' car, suffering severe head injuries.

Two other occupants of Collins car, F. J. McCullough, and Miss Dorothy Stuart, both of Sharon, were thrown out of the rumble seat. McCullough escaped injury, and Miss Stuart suffered a fractured left shoulder.

The other car was driven by Francis Suan of Hartford, O., who escaped injury. Collins and Miss Hollbaugh were to have been married in Pittsburgh later today.

ALLEGED CONFIDENCE MAN HELD IN CHICAGO

Lima Among Cities Wanting Suspect Sought for 17 Years.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 — The arrest of a man police said had been identified as William Elmer Mead, 59-year-old alleged confidence man said by authorities to be wanted in 28 different American cities, was revealed early today by Herbert Graham, U. S. postal inspector from New York.

The inspector said that Mead had served prison terms in London and San Quentin, but had successfully evaded arrest for the last 17 years. The latest exploits of which he was accused, he said, was the alleged fleecing of Parker C. Morton of Whitman, Mass., out of $65,000 at Jacksonville, Fla.

Mead was seized by Inspector Graham and Sergeants Thomas Alcock and Thomas Morris of the Chicago detective bureau after he had left a fashionable North side hotel, which the detectives had had under surveillance for some time.

Among the cities in which he is wanted, the detectives said, are Lima, O., Denver, and Colorado Springs, Colo.

BUYING DRIVE GIVEN BOOST

Roosevelt Backs Johnson's Threat To Boycott Those Not Under NRA.

WORK PUSHED ON CODES

Meanwhile Public Is Urged To Purchase Everything "Reasonable and Prudent."

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—A presidential order and governmental example pushed along today the national recovery administration's organized campaign to "buy under the blue eagle emblem" of industrial recovery.

Following closely, the remark by Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, that "it would be curious" if the government dealt with firms not coming under the recovery program, President Roosevelt last night backed the administrator's words with a presidential order virtually fulfilling Johnson's prediction.

Backed by Roosevelt

Mr. Roosevelt, at the summer White House, issued an executive order that all government contracts would be cancelled if the contractor did not comply with the recovery code. Government contracts eventually will include a big part of the $3,300,000,000 public works funds.

At almost the hour the presidential order was issued, Johnson, in an address at Baltimore, said that "the public must buy now, it must buy under the blue eagle and it must buy to the full of its reasonable and prudent needs." This, said the administrator, was "nothing less than the point of success or failure" in the entire recovery program.

With its buying campaign definitely launched, the NRA pressed its efforts to swing more industries under recovery codes designed to raise pay and create more jobs.

Conflicting Ideas

The bituminous coal industry code, in a jungle of conflicting ideas by operators and unions, entered the third day of public hearing.

The administration planned to begin similar hearings Aug. 18 on another major industry, the automobile business. The accessory industry will be considered and have a code entirely divorced from that of the automobile manufacturing business, Johnson indicated.

Capital and labor were not so prominent in another problem, the setting up of a code of fair competition for the grain exchanges. Here the issue appeared to revolve around the declaration of George

MORE MARION EMPLOYERS IN RANKS OF NRA

List Grows To 543; Standard Oil Company Increases Force in District.

TWENTY NEW JOBS ADDED

Druggists Delay Decision on Store Hours; Shoe Shops Adopt Scale.

The blue eagle's wings flapped vigorously over Marion today as employers rapidly fell in line with the NRA program.

While the list of signers of compliance certificates at the Marion postoffice grew to 543, an increase of 62 since yesterday noon, an announcement of an important development in the employment situation came from the Marion division headquarters of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio.

Twenty men will be added to the oil company's staff in this district, R. G. Tracy, manager, said. Seven of the new employes will be added here. The move is a phase of the company's statewide program, which Tracy said has given new jobs to 1,000 men.

Druggists Convene

Marion druggists, in a meeting this morning in the Marion Chamber of Commerce offices, postponed fixing of opening and closing hours until a national code is approved for their stores. Individual operators will select their own hours until then, according to Clifford Bartlett, chairman of the druggists' division of the local recovery organization.

Twelve of the 15 shoe repair shops in Marion announced today the adoption of minimum wage and hour scales. The other three shops, it was reported, are withholding action until a code submitted by the Master Shoe Rebuilders' association meets with approval.

Associated Press reports today from the state and nation told of new jobs resulting from the NRA policy. W. E. Sweet, former Colorado governor, told an Ohio audience that between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 persons have been given employment in the nation as a result of the movement.

Marion restaurant men were to meet this afternoon in Hotel Marion to discuss possible adoption of a code for their business which was approved yesterday by Gen.

Names of 62 Marion employers, added since yesterday noon to the list of those who have filed certificates of compliance with the NRA program, appear today on Page 3.

Standard Oil Adds Twenty New Jobs

Twenty new jobs in the Marion division of the Standard Oil Co., seven of them in Marion, have been created by that company's adherence to the blanket NRA code, R. G. Tracy, division manager, announced today.

The new employes will start to work Saturday morning, after completion today of a course of instruction classes here. They will take up posts in Marion, Mt. Gilead, Delaware, Marysville, Kenton, Richwood, Fostoria, Tiffin, Upper Sandusky, Bucyrus and Attica, comprising the Marion division.

Mr. Tracy also announced that the company's employes, present and new, will start Saturday on a schedule of 40 hours a week and will receive the same pay as for the former work week, which averaged about 56 hours in various classes of work.

With the new employes, the company will have a payroll of slightly more than 100 men in the district, Mr. Tracy said.

Possible further new employment is anticipated by company officials in the next week or two. The opening up of jobs in this district is part of the company's program in the state which has taken 1,000 men from the unemployed lists.

Severe Penalty Is Forecast for NRA Violators

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—A flat prediction that a case of revocation of the "blue eagle" emblematic of compliance with the national recovery administration will arise and that it will mean "economic death" to the offender was made today by Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA administrator.

At his press conference, Johnson promised that violators of modified presidential re-employment agreements would be disciplined if it were found that they were not complying with their pledge to raise wages and increase employment by shortening work hours.

He added however, that he intended to let the situation rest for a brief period in the hands of local committees.

Questioned concerning the status of interstate utilities and similar businesses, Johnson said that while they might not be within the regulative power of the national recovery act, the blue eagle would reach them.

He pointed out that the possibility of strictly intrastate operations being beyond federal control is one of the reasons "for this blue eagle business."

The administrator repeated that it was not intended to set up a police organization within the recovery administration.

Violations of permanent codes, where they are not cleared up after conciliatory action by the administration, will be referred to the federal trade commission, and then to the department of justice if necessary, the administrator explained.

MINE OWNERS STILL DIVIDED OVER CODE

Open Shop and Minimum Wage Questions Are Subjects of Dispute.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—Coal men themselves were unable to find today any indication that two days of hearings before the national recovery administration had brought bituminous mine operators nearer a settlement of their major differences over fair practice agreements for the industry.

Nearly all producers from the great Appalachian fields reaching from central Pennsylvania to Tennessee were said still to be determined to keep the United Mine Workers of America from encompassing their mine labor.

They said that if the open-shop clause in their code went out the removal would be the work of the NRA.

They flatly turned down a request by Donald Richberg, general counsel for NRA to follow the steel industry and remove the clause themselves.

The second major difference, minimum wages, was even farther from settlement. The administration with one word could wipe out the open shop clause, but adjustment of all the differentials in the various wage scales would be a complicated task.

Complicated, that is, unless the plan advocated by Frank E. Taplin, Cleveland operator, were adopted. Taplin said that the $5 basic minimum wage for underground labor, advocated by the United Mine workers, should be eliminated over the industry, with-

NAME DISTRICT AGENTS; DRAKE IS GIVEN POST

Local Man Opens Office Here To Serve Marion, Crawford, Morrow Counties.

TO TAKE APPLICATIONS

Representatives Appointed for Other Localities in This Territory.

Facilities to bring relief to hard pressed home owners throughout this district and the remainder of Ohio were established today by the Ohio Home Owners Loan corporation when sub-district agents were appointed and offices opened.

Henry P. Drake, local contractor, received his appointment late yesterday as agent for the subdivision comprising Marion, Morrow and Crawford counties. This morning he established temporary offices to receive applications for loans in room 7 at the McNeal-Wolford building on West Center street.

Simultaneously sub-division offices were opened at Findlay where Ira Bushong will be agent for Hancock, Wyandot and Hardin counties, at Bellefontaine where Frank Garver will have charge of Logan, Champaign and Union counties, at Newark with Homer Orr in charge of Delaware, Coshocton and Licking counties, in Mansfield with G. A. Barr in charge of Ashland, Richland and Knox counties and in Lima where Lehr Miller will have charge of Allen, Mercer and Auglaize counties.

Confers With Manager

Drake, immediately after receiving word of his appointment, went to Toledo where he conferred with C. C. F. Selving on the details of the program. Selving is manager of the Toledo district in which the Marion sub-division is located. Drake also obtained complete supplies and instructions for handling applications for loans.

Two other appointments, that of appraiser and attorney, will be made in each county in the district and state within the next week. At that time the complete machinery will have been set up for speeding aid to home owners.

Drake made it clear today that loans will be made only where home-owners are hard pressed to meet payments on mortgages. No others will be considered under the provision of the federal home loan act.

The law creating the federal loan funds provides relief in four special types of cases—first, refinancing with bonds; second, refinancing with cash; third, redemption of homes on which mortgages have been foreclosed in the last two years, and fourth, loans in cash on unencumbered property.

Farm Land Not Included

The act provides for loans only on homes anywhere in the county, provided they are not part of farms.

In the first type of case, the property owner first must obtain consent of the holder of the first mortgage or other obligation constituting a lien or claim on the property to accept the four per cent tax exempt bonds of the corporation. The federal government guarantees the interest on the bonds but not the principal, which is guaranteed by the corporation.

Only after obtaining consent of the mortgage holders will the home

Applications Mount High on Opening Day

By The Associated Press

Hard pressed Ohio home-owners literally swamped the district and sub-district offices of the federal home owners' loan corporation as they opened for business today in 34 cities.

Applications calling for loans mounted into millions were filed. So complete were some of the applications that even pictures of the property on which loans were sought accompanied them.

So great was the rush of applicants at the Cincinnati office of the corporation that additional clerks were necessary.

More than an hour before the Columbus district office opened a long line had formed at the door. A total of 975 applications were received there the first day, totaling $2,128,577.57 before noon. Twelve counties are in the Columbus district.

Youngstown reported nearly 300 applications on file before the offices closed for lunch.

Many of the applications filed with the Columbus office were made out by banking institutions. Thomas E. Dye, district manager, said loan-hungry business men were ready to accept the bonds of the corporation.

ONLY 38 GET PERMITS

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 11 — Out of approximately 150 wholesale or retail dealers in cosmetics in Union county, only 38 have thus far applied for licenses under the new state stamp tax law, according to County Auditor Morey Liggett.

THOUGHTFUL SUICIDE

PARIS - Madame Marie Courault, age 60, of Charolles, took much forethought before committing suicide recently. Before attaching the rope around her throat, she placed unlighted candles around her bed and sewed black mourning bands on her husband's clothes.

INNOCENT MAN EXECUTED, HE SAYS

North Carolina is stirred by a parallel to the famed Sacco and Vanzetti case. State Senator Allan H. Gwyn, of Reidsville, is continuing fight to prove innocence of Clay Fogleman, who was convicted of murder of W. J. Carter, filling-station operator at Gastonia, largely on his record as a desperado and circumstantial evidence, and executed at Raleigh. Gwyn was so convinced of his innocence that he walked to the death chair with his client, the first lawyer ever to do this in the state. After the execution, two men confided to a lawyer at Durham that they witnessed killing of Carter and that Fogleman was not a participant.

TO REQUEST SUPPLY OF NEW NRA STAMPS

Aug. 15 First Date for Sale of Emergency Postal Issue.

A request for 50,000 of the NRA emergency postage stamps will be made to the United States post-office department by Postmaster Preston Crow, it was announced today. The stamps will go on sale Aug. 15 at Washington and in other postoffices throughout the country, as soon after that date as they can be supplied.

The stamps are the same size as the regular issue and are printed in purple ink. The principal design, spaced slightly to the right of the center of the stamp, contains figures representing a farmer, a business man, an industrial worker and a woman employe.

Rays of light as from the rising sun, extend from the upper right corner toward the central group. In the upper part of the space, between the central subject and the left margin, in dark Gothic letters are the words "Three cents" arranged in two lines, and some distance below, in dark Gothic letters of larger size is the abbreviation "NRA".

In a horizontal line along the bottom of the stamp in small Gothic lettering are the words "In a common determination."

U. B. MUSIC GROUPS ARRANGE PROGRAM

To Give Entertainment at First Church of Brethren Tonight.

The Sunday school orchestra and chorus of the First United Brethren church will give an hour's program tonight at 8 at the First Church of the Brethren.

The orchestra, under the direction of A. Butcher, will play a 30-minute program of sacred numbers and the chorus, directed by B. K. Hill, will give a 30-minute program of sacred songs and Negro spirituals.

Several months ago the Church of the Brethren gave a play for the entertainment of the United Brethren congregation and the program tonight will be a return courtesy.

MRS. MOODY READY TO COMPETE AGAIN

By The Associated Press

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 11 — Helen Wills Moody, who was forced to withdraw from the Wightman cup defense because of a slightly wrenched back, is satisfied that she is in condition again to play her finest brand of tennis in pursuit of her eighth national singles title in the championships starting here Monday.

For an hour yesterday she practiced with Elmer Griffin, of California, concentrating on play at the net, then moving to the back court for forehand and backhand driving. She drilled on service and her overhead game, with all her shots working well. No scores were kept.

Mrs. Moody, in fine spirits, said afterward that she was satisfied with her game and condition, considering the layoff she was forced to take. She planned another drill today.

TOSS-UP DECIDES SHOOTING TITLE

By The Associated Press

YORKLYN, Del., Aug. 11 — It took a toss-up to decide that Earl Maust of Detroit, won the Brandywine, closest event thus far in the annual T. Clarence Marshall trapshooting classic. Five men missed only eight of 875 targets.

Fred S. Tomlin, Glassboro, N. J., professional, tied for the next place with two amateurs, William H. Ford, Delaware state champion, and Joseph F. Heistand of Hillsboro, O., newly crowned 500-target world's amateur champion. Each hit 173.

Heistand, who finished the previous day's shoot with an unfinished run of 326 breaks added 113 straight yesterday to make it 439.

DENIES CHARGE OF ASSAULTING WIFE

Harry O. Phelps, 50, of 866 East Center street, pleaded not guilty yesterday in municipal court to a charge of assault, filed by his wife, Mrs. Dora Phelps. He was released for hearing Aug. 17 at 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. Phelps charges him with assault according to an affivadit filed in municipal court.

150 PERSONS ATTEND PROGRAM AT WESLEY

Rev. George Gives Talk at Quarterly Sunday School Night Meeting.

One hundred and fifty persons attended the quarterly Sunday school night observance last night at Wesley M. E. church. Rev. W. Martell George, pastor, gave a short talk on the work of the church and Sunday school.

G. F. Lashey, superintendent of the Sunday school, presided for a program which opened with group singing and a prayer by Rev. Claude Dayton.

A playlet, "The Spelling Match," given by the Daughters of Ruth class, followed a clarinet number by Harold Wendler, accompanied at the piano by his mother, Mrs. H. C. Wendler. A quartet from the Daughters of Ruth class sang a group of southern melodies. Joan Boyd gave several readings, after which Ruth Habluetzel sang, accompanied at the piano by her sister, Miss Ida Habluetzel. A reading by Mrs. H. W. Baumgartner preceded a piano duet by Miss Alice George and Georgene McGhee. Instrumental music by Dale Wendler, with Mrs. Wendler at the piano, a talk by Rev. George, a selection by a quartet from the Unity Bible class and group singing closed the program.

COMMITTEES TO MEET AT CHURCH

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH.

WHEN HE CANT SWIM.

To let a child go out in a boat alone or accompanied only by an adult who cannot swim shows on the part of the child's guardians either a complete ignorance of water or extreme negligence.

The papers are constantly reporting the drowning of members of picnic parties, or more often of boys who though unable to swim, were out in a canoe or rowboat which capsized. To allow a child to do a thing the danger of which he does not realize is encouraging him to be not brave, but rash, and anyone who does it is courting tragedy.

There is no use in half-way measures when it is a question of children and water.

A little child may be permitted to go to the edge of the water, on a sloping beach with a reasonable assurance that he will be safe. But the spirit of adventure in children is strong, and there is always a chance that some day, somehow he will go out of bounds, and, though parent and child may only have a very salutary scare, the results may be far more serious.

There is no need to teach a child fear of the water. In fact, such a training would defeat the desired end which is to make a child at home in it. If a child is taught from earliest childhood that without the presence of an adult who can swim he cannot go near the water; if he is debarred from boats and fishing because he cannot swim, it is amazing how soon he will evince an eagerness to learn.

The prohibition may seem cruel, and a hardship to parent and child alike, but in the end it will open a new world of sport to the child both in and out of the water, and may save the parents vain regrets for an unnecessary loss of life.

Homemaker's Question Box

Question — What precautions need to be taken in combining materials for a salad?

Answer—All juicy fruits and vegetables should be well drained before combining in the salad.

The flavor of meats and solid vegetables and fruits is greatly improved by marinating with French dressing. Put ingredients in a bowl and pour in French dressing. Use your lightest touch to toss all ingredients together. See to it that every little piece gets its share of dressing. Top dressing of mayonnaise may be added just before the salad goes to the table.

If a cooked salad dressing of mayonnaise is to be combined with any salad it should be done at the last possible minute before serving so that it will not draw the juices from the ingredients. Even at community meals this may be done by taking ingredients in a bowl wrapped in wax paper and the dressing in a jar.

He heard her laugh ripple under her breath.

"Just like I've been dragged in tonight?"

"Well—er—yes, in a way," he stammered. "But this isn't a story."

"Nevertheless, I rather like it—being dragged in by the hair of the head—so far," she confided. "But why this sudden shedding of your cloak, Mr. Hewitt—or should I say, Mr. Howard?"

"I see you haven't judged me harshly—offhand," he said, gratefully.

"Judgment reserved," she answered. "I asked you a question."

"Because," he said earnestly, "I want to exact a promise from you that, for the time being at least, you won't say anything about what has happened tonight."

"Isn't that a very strange request?" Her voice was suddenly serious. "I don't understand."

"I want to tell you a little story," he said quietly. "Do you mind? I will be just as brief as I can."

"I am listening," she invited.

The minutes passed—many of them. The story did not lend itself to brevity. There was too much to tell, so many sidelights, if she was to understand. And so he told her of Annie, and French Pete and the Mask, and Reddy Turner's murder. Everything—except his promise to Reddy, and the actual purpose of his visit to Butch Connal's room.

• • •

"AND so you see," he ended, "why at present I am a man without a home and without a name. That brings us to tonight. I haven't said anything so far about Lazarre; but I have reason to hope that I can get him to help me pick up the Mask's trail. That's why I asked for your promise."

"You have my promise," she said simply.

And somehow in the darkness their hands met. She did not draw hers away. And for a moment they sat thus in silence. He was not tongue-tied now—he was fighting to hold back the rush of words that were on his lips. He could not bring her intimately into his life as matters stood. It would not be fair to her—if he found that she cared. It would only be inviting her into danger of the ugliest kind.

His hand tightened warmly over hers and then released it.

"That's ripping of you!" he said. "I don't need to tell you that the club, in its own parlance, will be taken for a ride in due course—and the road won't be any the smoother because of the delay."

"What do you think they are doing there?" she asked.

"I haven't the faintest idea," he said.

"But Lazarre?" she questioned. "I don't understand about Lazarre. You haven't told me who he is, or how you new he was down here."

"No," he said frankly; "I haven't. And I'm afraid that is one of the things that I am not at liberty to tell you. Personally, I do not see any reason now why you should not know, but I gave my word and I have no choice other than to keep it. I'm not throwing cold water, am I?"

"Oh, no!" she declared emphatically. "Of course you're not! I can quite understand. But there is one question I do want to ask. You said you hoped to get Lazarre to help you to pick up the Mask's trail. You remember that one of those two men just said something about W. P.? That was what was on the card you found in the pocket of the man you fought with in Reddy Turner's old room, wasn't it?"

"You go up head," he applauded. "Well, that pretty definitely proves that the club here is one of the Mask's enterprises, doesn't it?" she demanded. "And therefore that Lazarre is one of the Mask's men? How can you expect help from him?"

"That's the only other thing I can't explain to you," he said, "except to say that I am armed with an approach to Lazarre which may mean everything—or nothing. I do not know any more than you do what it's worth until I have talked with him.

"This whole thing is terrible!" she exclaimed. "It is almost impossible to believe that a fiend such as you have pictured the Mask to be, exists as a human being."

Colin laughed shortly.

"HE exists all right. Witness Mr. Howard. But let's not talk about him for a moment. There's a question or two I'd like to ask you. Tell me all you can about the club itself."

"I can't tell you very much," she said. "I've seen it, of course, but only from a distance when I've been out in my boat. It looks very nice, and father says it is very comfortable fitted up inside with electric light and—"

"Electric light!" Colin interrupted quickly. "That's interesting! That means they've got a power plant of some sort. I suppose they've harnessed up the river a bit."

"I suppose so," she said, 'though I don't know very much about such things. But there are some falls right beside the clubhouse, and I don't imagine it would be a very difficult thing to do."

"You mean it's what one would expect? All the creature comforts, Mr. Waldrow Kenniston wouldn't be without them, of course. Well, is there anything else you can tell me?"

"No," she replied thoughtfully; "I don't think so. I have already told you not no one from the club ever comes near Cap a l'Orage, so I have no personal knowledge of them."

"I see," he said—and fell silent for a moment. How best to make contact with Lazarre? "Look here," he said abruptly, "I know there are no roads out of Cap a l'Orage but there is nothing to prevent one from going overland to the club, is there?"

"Not if you have the agility of a mountain goat and are an expert woodsman," she answered laughingly, "You would cut the time in half too, for I don't suppose, as the crow flies, it would be more than three and a half miles from the village to the club."

"That's also interesting," he said. "As far as agility is concerned, I think I would be prepared to take a chance; but as for the other qualification—well, perhaps you know someone who could supply it?"

She thought for an instant.

"The best man in the village at that sort of thing," she said, "is an old timber cruiser named Anatole Bouchard. He speaks very good English too, but—"

"Bouchard?" he broke in. "—what sort of a man is he? Is he to be trusted?"

"If you paid him enough to make it worth his while."

Her hand reached out. He felt her fingers close tensely on his arm.

"Why all these questions about going overland to the club?" she asked. "You heard what those two men said. I—I am afraid. What do you intend to do?"

"Not a thing," he laughed disarmingly, "except to arrange a little private interview with Monsieur Jos Lazarre."

To Be Continued.

Given in Marriage

BY ADELE GARRISON

Avis, Utterly Cowed, Is Turned Over to Mother.

I ACQUITTED Lillian of any deliberate intent to taunt Avis when she spoke of wanting a chance to kiss "the loveliest bride and the happiest bridegroom" that she had seen "in a long and misspent life." But I knew that Avis, knowing full well that everyone of us was fully conversant with her scheme for upsetting Noel's wedding and of that scheme's undoing, must be inwardly writhing in the belief that Lillian had uttered the words with the intention of "crowing over her."

Avis' Mother Worried

But she said nothing, and as I left the room with Harry and Lillian, I wondered if, perhaps, I had finally reached the end of this particular chapter with her, and whether Noel and Mary would have a chance to depart upon their wedding trip with no further sight of the girl so hateful to both of them.

As I entered the living room I saw Mrs. Arlen looking anxiously around, while Philip Veritzen was talking to her in a patent attempt to reassure her. Both of them started toward me as soon as they caught sight of me, and I hurried directly toward them, followed by Lillian and Harry.

"Have you seen Avis?" Mrs. Arlen asked before she had reached me.

"Yes, I was just coming after you," I answered, my mind so full of Mary and Noel that I am afraid I was lacking in courtesy to an anxious mother. After all, she was not to blame for her daughter's "cussedness," even though she had grievously spoiled her as a child.

"Oh, what—?" she began frantically, but Lillian interposed swiftly.

"She is not ill, Mrs. Arlen," Lillian said emphatically. "Please don't be worried. But she has had a headache ever since she arose, she said, and just now she felt a little dizzy, so I took her into the little study and Mrs. Bickett is there with her now. Shall I take you to her?"

"Oh, please! You're sure she is all right?"

"Absolutely sure," Lillian replied, offering her arm to the anxious mother, and the two left the room. Mrs. Arlen's voice floating back to us.

"My poor, sensitive darling," she was saying. "This has all been too much for her." And I wondered if she could possibly mean to imply that Noel's marrying someone else had been too much for Avis.

But as I saw the door close after her and Lillian, I drew a long breath of relief. Avis was in her mother's hands now, and I was sure that Katherine, with her matchless tact and resourcefulness, would be able to keep both women in the little study until Noel and Mary should have departed.

Veritzen Voices a Doubt

Jerry Ticer's old flivver, with Jerry himself at the wheel, was waiting outside our own barn. Jerry had been there, swollen with importance, ever since the last words of the wedding ceremony had been concluded. I knew what quick changers Noel and Mary, especially Mary, were, and knew that before the guests had time to miss them after the first course of the wedding supper, they would be well on their way.

"Well!" Philip Veritzen's voice sounded beside me. "I have not seen you kiss the bride yet."

"I haven't had that privilege yet," I retorted. "Have you?"

"Oh, yes; I have gone through all the proper motions," he rejoined sardonically. "But I am surprised at your defection. You, the deus ex machina of this wedding, to be laggard in congratulations. Is it possible that you are beginning to regret your share in it?"

New Odorless Way Ends Body Odor Best

Research chemists have discovered that the cause of body odor is not fresh perspiration, but stale perspiration—calcium, salt and particles of fat—lodged deep in the pores.

Most ordinary toilet soaps curdle in hard water. This curdled soap works into the pores, dams up the stale perspiration. Body odor results.

That's why deep-pore cleansing is needed in this hard water. Kirk's Coco Castile, a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, mixes with the particles of perspiration curds, loosens them, then rinses out completely—the only real way to end body odor.

"Nothing Like It for Our Hard Water"
—says citizen of Sarasota, Florida, where water is hardest in the state.

Try Kirk's Coco Castile today. It's odorless. And half again larger than average toilet soaps—an exceptional bargain. Be sure to ask for Kirk's by name.

A Continuing Responsibility.

Wage-earning consumers who have begun to discern the drain of higher prices on static incomes are among the first to ask what there is to be gained by a movement that matches the cost of living with wages in a race toward an inflationary goal. What is being done to prevent a mere multiplication of dollar prices in commodities which will be matched by a similar, although probably smaller, multiplication of wage dollars that eventually will create a situation neither better nor worse than that which prevailed at the beginning?

It is obvious that the widely discussed commodity price index is the average of many prices. Thus, speaking generally, it is an index whose proportions are dragged down by extremely low prices for agricultural commodities and boosted up by disproportionately high prices for certain other commodities, such as steel. It is, therefore, not the index which must be raised to effect relief from the depression, but prices within the index.

Assuming that there exists in the administration at Washington enough intelligence and power to iron out certain illogical disparities in prices, the wage-earning consumer can ask himself what there is in the present setup to insure that, after this is done he will be able to buy a greater amount of goods. For instance, the accepted minimum wage for persons with low earning power is $14. At the moment, payment of that wage represents a real increase in buying power. But if the commodity price index increases by 35 per cent in the next few months and if separate prices increase even more than that the minimum wage worker's theoretical increase in buying power is wiped out. He is back where he started, and he may be penalized.

This throws upon employers a responsibility of increasing wages in proportion to the increase in prices. Unfortunately, the prospect of employers accepting the responsibility is not good, for the reason that the code system of raising wages can be expected to create a static wage level, particularly at the lower end of the scale. In view of the fact that there will be an employers' labor market for an indefinite time to come, wages are going to lag behind in their race with prices unless employers can be made to recognize the necessity of continuing to increase them in proportion to inflation

The Difficult Farmer.

It is hard to understand why the administration's ability to get around an old law making it illegal to draw money from the government while still owing money to it is held in doubt Surely, this almost forgotten piece of legislation enacted way back in 1875 isn't going to impede a course of events which, some say, is alien to the Constitution itself.

On grounds of old-fashioned reasoning it is an excellent law. It effectually eliminates dead-beats from the government's list of beneficiaries—or would if it were to be enforced. But few things these days are being analyzed on grounds of old-fashioned reasoning. Consider what confusion would be caused in administering the agricultural relief act if payment of old debts were permitted to become a factor.

It is said that farmers already owe the government more than twice as much as the government plans to pay them in grain and cotton benefits. In other words, the government could pay and pay and pay without getting any additional cash in circulation at all. All it would accomplish with the people's money would be payment of farmers' debts

For reasons which are not hard to understand this would not please farmers. Realizing the probable extent of their displeasure, farm relief administrators are sitting up nights trying to think of a way to get rid of that inconvenient old law. If they irritate the agriculturists, they can depend on those gentlemen spiting their faces by cutting off their noses—refusing to comply with the acreage reduction program, in other words

Where there is a will there is a way Depend upon it—wager on the certainty that shortly Washington will have forgotten about an old law passed in 1875 which embodied the somewhat ridiculous idea that before a borrower from the government can get more sugar he must pay bac kwhat he borrowed the last time That is a curious conception of the way to do business in a modern world

Two Lives.

On the same day that Premier Mussolini's dentist informs an interested world that his patient never shows pain, even when the buzzing drill grinds its way into a nerve, another well known figure in the Italian government leads a great armada back to Europe. General Balbo has earned the enthusiastic welcome he will be given for conducting his gallant aviators in safety to Chicago and back home to Italy.

There was pain in the achievement which the general is permitted to express—the pain of losing two young Italians who were killed in accidents occurring in Holland on the trip to the United States and in the Azores on the trip home to Italy. It is proper that their deaths be mourned deeply; they represent a sacrifice to the fates which attended a spectacular accomplishment.

The general and his capable chief probably believe—and would be justified in believing—that it was not an exorbitant price to pay for the privilege of demonstrating to the world the deeds of which modern Italy is capable. It is not as if the two young Italians had been killed in a common manner. Literally, according to Italian conceptions of their fate, they died as heroes.

There is inherent in fascism a strain of stronger stuff than can be found easily in the less formal country of nominal democracy. It is a strain described somewhat adequately by Benito Mussolini when he writes that war and its attendant, death, are not to be scorned by a nation which would be strong It is a strain demonstrated by the fortitude of a leader who is too proud to admit that he fee a pain when he visits his dentist—a leader who tries to set his people an example of physical courage and energy by his personal habits.

Americans once more hail what Italy has done at great expense It deplores the loss of two lives, but it feels as Italy must feel that they were not wasted Great things cannot be accomplished without expense

Soviet Credit.

Into the discussion of Russia's rights to deal with the United States on an equal diplomatic footing has been injected a new and powerful factor—the attraction of the Soviet states as borrowers. The flag follows the dollar, and it is inevitable that many American dollars will go to the Russians.

It is recalled by newspaper readers in this connection that the Reconstruction Finance Corp., intrusted with billions of dollars belonging to the people, recently advanced a sizable loan to the Amtorg Trading Corp, Soviet commercial representative in the United States. With such good assurance of faith in Russian credit, private capital may be expected to follow in greater quantities.

Theoretically, no people are more capable of justifying investment than are modern Russians. The reason is simple and direct Their political experiment has awakened in them realization of new needs. They constitute a vast portion of the earth's population which is being advanced in a few generations from an agrarian to an industrial civilization.

It has been remarked by observers of the Communistic experiment in Russia that it has developed a potential demand which will be unsatisfied for many decades, once it has become strong enough to be assertive. Whatever one may think of Communism, he must admit that it has created a ferment in a vast country which has lagged behind the more rapid progress of its neighbors.

The United States, model for Russian dreamers who admit frankly that capitalism has built up a mighty industrial structure, has a constant surplus of goods to sell abroad. Russians need those goods to assist them in their progress toward the goal of an industrial state in which all the advantages of the machine will be available without those disadvantages which appear, in the United States, to be the results of machinery's control by capitalists.

It is a situation made to order for capitalists seeking lucrative investments. Perhaps they will be not entirely unconscious of the humor entailed in a transaction by which the symbols of their power are devoted to development of a social order sworn to destruction of that power.

A Code for Housewives.

The story about Iowa housewives who have drawn up a recovery code for themselves gives expression to the current laments of thousands of women who have watched jealously the release of their husbands from long hours of labor. One might believe that Iowa housewives, being either more oppressed or more vindictive, had special need or special aptitude for reform. That probably is not the case.

From the point of hours, the housewife's day is long Ten thousand times ten thousand husbands could tell the whole story of its length from beginning to end; they have heard it related, with gestures and emphasis, so many times they could repeat it backward. It is a day that begins very early in the morning and finally drags to a close late at night when the last member of the family has fallen asleep

The Iowa matrons ask for a day that begins at 7, in time for breakfast, and ends at 7:30, after the supper dishes have been washed and put away. With a half hour for lunch (self-prepared) that makes a 12-hour day. However, four hours each afternoon are to be unencumbered, leaving an actual eight hour day. Counting Sunday at a half day, which it usually is from the standpoint of work performed General Johnson will be able to call this a 52-hour week when the code is presented to him

In addition, a minimum budget of $14 a week is proposed Gentlemen who have been trying to determine what constitutes a reasonable subsistence level may reflect profitably on this figure If Iowa home-makers need $14 a week to run their houses, how much more is necessary to maintain a family in operation?

It must be admitted that housewives have great need for a code. The admission must be accompanied, however, by certain strong convictions lest it prove misleading. The first is that housewifery ceases to be housewifery when it allows restrictions to be placed on it. The second is that neither Iowa housewives nor those of any other state really want a code Home-making isn't an occupation it's a profession.

Comment of the Press

DARING QUEEN.

Now who can deny that the world has gone liberal? Queen Mary of England, the last bulwark of Victorianism, has appeared at a garden party in a gown which did not reach the ground by seven inches This is a note for the historians when they come to chronicle the transition from the conservative axe to the liberal age

Viewed with alarm by the textile industry is this act of Queen Mary What if the world follows her example and the formal, semi-formal and afternoon gowns now brushing the grass are shortened by seven inches? It would mean a curtailment of textile production by millions of yards and of textile employment by thousands of workers

Fortunately Queen Mary has not been setting the fashion, except at court where the long train is still compulsory. When she was wearing them one her sisters were wearing them short, and now that she is taking them up the fashion for the commoners is long, if not longer

And yet she has created an economic threat which the world economic conference should have cautioned against Did not the ostrich industry go out when ostrich plumes went out? Did not the sheep go to the butchers when silk and cotton replaced wool? And look what happened to the poor little silk worm when the industrial research engineer developed rayon

A queen cannot be too careful in such important matters of state as altering the hem of a shirt.—Newark Advocate

Gout Often Not Recognized.

Neglect of physical complaints too often leads to serious and chronic disorders. We should be better trained so that we might recognize the early symptoms of disease Then if we were to heed the early signs of physical defects, the number of chronic disorders would be greatly decreased. In consequence, much unnecessary suffering would be avoided.

Each of us should be able to recognize the early signs of disease. Of course, I do not mean that everyone must be a trained physician. But you should not disregard the plain warnings. When, for example, you are afflicted with inflamed joints, painful joints, or other joint symptoms, make every effort to determine the cause. Do not use home remedies, seek medical advice to locate the reasons for your trouble and give yourself the benefit of expert prescribing.

There is a tendency to accept joint pain as something commonplace and unimportant. Too often the condition is incorrectly diagnosed by the sufferer as rheumatism or arthritis. Sometimes irritating salves and patent medicines are applied for relief of the pain. Because temporary relief is obtained, no effort is made to determine accurately what the ailment really is and to remove its cause.

Gout is a disease that may be mistaken for arthritis, rheumatism, or neuralgia. Though it is as common as in former years, it is more prevalent than many believe.

It is caused by an excessive amount of uric acid in the system. The disease is more common in men than in women and is usually encountered between the ages of thirty and forty.

The victim of this disorder may suddenly awaken in the middle of the night. He finds himself with severe pain in a joint, usually the big toe. The part becomes red, swollen, hot and painful. Fever may be present and headache, thirst and indigestion are the symptoms.

In former years when little was known about diet and the chemistry of food, little relief was afforded these sufferers With our present knowledge, the treatment of gout is more successful.

The diet is restricted and all food substances which develop uric acid are avoided. The uric acid and "purine" foods are not permitted Meats, meat extractives, meat soups, sweetbreads, liver, kidney and brains are foods rich in purines and these must be omitted from the diet of the patient having gout.

Proper hygiene of the body and temperance in eating and drinking are essential for a prompt and complete recovery. Overeating is quite as harmful as the eating of foods that lead to uric acid formation Alcoholic beverages, tea and coffee are detrimental to the sufferer from gout and must be avoided.—Copyright, 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

GOVERNOR M'KINLEY AND THE STORERS.

The recent reference to the Herrick statement about contributions to the fund to save Governor McKinley's estate from wreck in the Walker failure, has drawn the information that a great many contributions that were sent directly to the governor's office at that time, and presumably on the senders own volition, were promptly returned—more in total volume than the governor's liability on the Walker notes—for the reason that it was thought persons making them ought not to be permitted to come to the governor's rescue

There were many close personal and political friends who might reasonably be expected to wish to help and these only were permitted to do so. Of the returned checks, Herrick probably never knew anything The checks were returned to the senders, with notes of thanks, directly from the governor's office On the same authority it was stated that the Storers of Cincinnati, whose contributions Mr. Herrick said were regarded as intended to obligate the governor, were very close friends of McKinley, and would be expected naturally to wish to help him, and as they were wealthy, their offering would of course be liberal. They offered $25,000 each but Herrick said only $5,000 each was accepted. Later Storer was named minister to Spain and then was transferred to Austria.

A Washington Daybook

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

COUSIN HULL

Washington, Aug. 11—President Roosevelt's decision to assign Prof. Raymond Moley, head "braintruster" of his administration, to the task of making a special survey of methods of combating crime may, for a time at least, quiet rumors of the reported break between Moley and his superior in the state department, Secretary Cordell Hull.

In naming Moley for the job, Roosevelt made it plain that nothing unusual was behind it, that he would retain his title as assistant secretary of state, and return to the department when the task was finished.

Moley himself had something to say on the subject. At Hyde Park, after talking with the President about his new assignment, newspapermen cornered him and asked if he would remain as assistant secretary under Hull.

"I certainly am going to," he replied "I know of no good reason why I should not."

And when someone suggested that it had been assumed in some quarters that he would resign, Moley snapped:

I pay no attention to assumptions."

• • •

It is doubtful, however, that even the assurances of the President or the emphatic statements of the professor will silence completely the gossip among Washington observers concerning the Hull-Moley affair.

That cancelled airplane flight abroad and Moley's other experiences in London are enough to satisfy some that not everything is peaceful.

And there's this thought too—

Those who know Cornel Hull intimately and who have watched him during the long years he has been in public life say that he is a man who does not easily forget or forgive a grievance.

"He is mild-mannered, smooth and kindly," said one of his friends, "but he has another side as well

If the secretary thinks then that he was dealt with wrongly at London, the Hull-Moley affair may not yet be a closed incident.

• • •

Incidentally, the President's grasp of the situation when the proposed international statement on stabilization of the currency was before is indicated by one of the highers-up who attended the London conference upon his return to Washington.

This gentleman was closeted with the President for several hours when he returned to the capital. Roosevelt was discussing the currency statement Sections 1 and 2 he thought were all right Section 4 he thought not so good.

"I was glad he didn't ask me about those various sections," said the higher-up. "I couldn't have told him the contents of any of the four."

OUT OF THE LETTER-BOX.

"Really, does a man ever marry a woman, whom he secretly believes to be his superior in intelligence, personality, station, looks, etc?" writes an interesting young woman, who signs herself "A Nice Girl—Darn It."

Certain-lee not, "Nice Girl!" But, where in the world did you ever find a man who actually believed that? Or a man who even suspected it?

Here is a girl after my own heart!

"During this depression," she writes, "there are many young men who are 'broke,' and who refrain from calling on girls on that account. I think they are foolish! If I cared for a man, I should like seeing him whether he had money or not. There are heaps of things which would prove entertaining and which would not cost anything.

"Being broke is nothing to be ashamed of . . . I like going places as well as anyone, but I can still be a pal, when days are not so fair.

That's a girl who appreciates that "equal rights" mean equal responsibilities—and who will make some man a swell 50-50 wife.

• • •

A man who signs himself "Smith" (but I'm sure that isn't his name) gives some illuminating advice on how to hold a wife's love.

Let her have her own way a good part of the time," he begins. If she remarks that she doesn't care whether or not you like the way she dresses, just stop complimenting her when you do admire her looks and outfit; and you'll have her thinking—and wondering

If she insists on seeing her relatives, give her the money for her railroad fare and let her go . . . but never let her invite them to visit you. Even if you have to get your own breakfasts and burn your own chops while she's gone—well, that's the price of peace. And there's always a sympathetic, pretty neighbor to take pity on you.

"I have followed these rules and am still happy—at 50—and so is the wife"

Congratulations, Mr. Smith! But your very first sentence seems to cover the whole subject. In fact the first half dozen words ought to express enough to clinch any woman's love.

And listen to this from a gentleman who is at least half-right in his opinion of my own sex.

"When a man can expose all the tricks of Houdini, when a man can make the inventions of Marconi look like child's play, when a man can make the leopard change his spots and find the rock that killed Goliath—then he may attempt the impossible feat of making a woman happy. Woman was born dissatisfied, and if the world were perfect she would change it!"

I daresay she would—just as she changes the furniture around, every spring and fall.—Copyright, 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

ARGUMENT FOR INFLATION.

Editor of the Star. I must disagree with your editorial of Tuesday evening on the 'danger of inflation" as you expressed it. Inflation is not a danger, it is the country's only salvation. America and the rest of the world is in debt, in fact almost bankrupt if payment of debts was enforced at this time.

In 1917, the United States had a national debt of one billion dollars, for the first time. It is now approximately 25 billions If we couldn't pay off one billion, how are we going to pay off a debt on which interest alone is one billion, and especially with the same kind of a dollar we had then? It can't be done Ten years before our debt reached the billion mark, I was in Europe In Italy I received five liras for an American dollar, now you get twenty. In France I received five francs, now you get twenty or more, and in Germany I received four marks for a dollar and now you receive twenty or more.

Our dollar is still on a Morgan pedestal and the creditor still is receiving the same number of dollars he loaned and they'll buy two to four times as much in farms, homes and much merchandise,

The dollar must be cheapened to meet present conditions and put the debtor on an equal basis with the creditor The government could issue additional money, take up some billions of government bonds and thereby force this money into business channels, and then the purchasing public would have more dollars to support the NRA program.

There is no other quick solution and I believe President Roosevelt knows it and I fully expect to read through your news columns within the next 90 days that the needed billions are being issued. This is an emergency situation. The currency of all the other great powers has depreciated in purchasing power and ours appreciated We must follow suit to save our bacon Arthur Brisbane says, and I agree with him, that our national debt will be no greater printed on green paper than on yellow, and then with a cheaper dollar Europe can easily pay its debts to us and save its face and credit at the same time, and later it will be just as easy for the government to retire this currency, as it would bonds

Recently in a radio address, Mr. Roosevelt stated that he intended to give us the same kind of dollars that were borrowed and I believe he will do it. We must pay a national debt bill of 25 billion dollars which cannot be done with our present expensive dollar. The farmer, home owner and the rest of us know this when we pay on the principal, the interest or taxes

Real estate is the basis of all wealth and this class of mortgages collateral of the country, be they ordinarily by banks and building and loan companies, will be made secure by inflation of the currency with the improved land values that will follow. Homes, farms and savings deposits will also be made secure and all business will function on a new plane of values in merchandise and real property as well as in money.

Increased employment will naturally follow.

A Citizen.

President Coolidge arrived in Washington on his return trip from Marion, where he attended the funeral of the late President Harding.

Thomas A. Edison, Harvey S. Firestone and Henry Ford were visitors in Bucyrus, having stopped there overnight after attending the Harding funeral services. Ford gave out an interview to Bucyrus newspapermen in which he commented on business conditions and said there was "not a cloud in sight."

Miss Nina Clutter, 26, died at her home in Mt. Gilead.

Nathaniel E. Rutledge, 46, of Waterloo street, died in the City hospital of injuries resulting from an accident at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. plant a week before.

Misses Mary Catherine Martin and Dorothy Mitchell, representing the Claridon Township Girls' Booster Food club in a county food demonstration contest in the domestic science department at Harding High school, won first honors and qualified to represent the county in contests at the state fair.

owner be permitted to file an application for a loan. Then the local agent will send the application to the district office where an appraisal will be ordered and the county attorney will be instructed to examine the title to the property.

In such cases where the mortgagee refuses to accept bonds, the provisions provide for the corporation to pay off the existing mortgages provided that they do not exceed 40 per cent of the present appraised value of the property.

The third case, calling for redemption of property lost in the last two years, the corporation will reclaim the property provided that the cash outlay, including back taxes and repairs, will not exceed 80 per cent of the present day appraised valued, and in no case more than $14,000.

Relief in the fourth case where the property is not encumbered, the corporation will provide relief for the payment of taxes, necessary repairs and maintenance.

Relief Must Be Necessary

All these provisions, Drake said, apply to cases where there is an absolute necessity for relief. It is not the intention of the corporation, he said, to take the place of legitimate loan agencies, but merely to save the home of persons who have become financially unable to meet the obligations of the mortgages.

In connection with making applications, Drake called attention to penalties provided for persons making false statements in making applications.

The law provides that "whoever makes any statement, knowing it to be false, or whoever willfully overvalues any security, for the purpose of influencing in any way the action of the Home Owners' corporation" * * * "shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both."

Penalties Provided

Another section of the law provides that "no person, partnership, association or corporation shall make any charge in connection with a loan by the corporation or any exchange of bonds or cash advance under this act, except ordinary charges authorized by the corporation for services actually rendered * * *." Penalties of a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years or both are provided.

The corporation expects applicants to pay incidental fees, such as appraiser and attorney fees, in consumating their transaction.

The local office of the corporation will be open from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. each day. At the present time no office assistant has been employed here.

Although the exact plans are still in doubt, Drake said that he will probably visit the larger cities in his sub-division to aid home owners in filling their applications.

NEW PLANT CULTURE PLAN IS DEVELOPED

quirements and at the same time increase their production many times over.

Rice is now negotiating with large nurseries on the sale of his method.

Possibilities of the plan are amazing, even to Rice, who said that on an investment of 75 cents in tomato plants, he raised 7,500 plants on a plot four inches wide and 66 feet long. He sold these plants, at three dozen for 25 cents, for $54.

Snapdragons, which usually bring 40 to 60 cents a dozen, can be raised cheaply enough under his system to sell at 10 cents a dozen or three dozen for 25 cents, Rice said.

Raises 300,000 Plants

This spring, Rice raised about 300,000 vegetable and flower plants on a plot 60 feet wide and 66 feet long. Sale of these plants brought him revenue of nearly $300, despite the fact he gave away thousands of plants to unemployed persons.

Now 48, Rice has been a garden enthusiast since his early years. About 20 years ago he was struck with the original idea of his present plan. Since then he has constantly been tinkering with the idea. Employed at night, Rice spent most of his waking hours in his garden, dabbling with first one new idea and then another.

Last spring, when he first saw indications of success, he thought "It's impossible!" To make sure, he tried it over and over, with various plants. After much experimentation, Rice found that his dream of 20 years had been realized.

HUSTON RELEASED FROM JAIL ON BOND

Charles S. Huston, 62, of East Church street, bound over to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of selling a mortgaged automobile, was released last night on $100 bond.

The charge of selling the mortgaged car was filed by Attorney John H. Clark yesterday shortly after an 11-year-old charge against Huston of removing the car from the county had been dismissed by Municipal Judge William R. Martin. Judge Martin ruled that the latter charge was outlawed by being more than three years old.

NO CHANGES MADE BY OFFICIAL COUNT

Results of Primary Not Affected; Few Votes Are Shifted.

No change was made in the outcome of the contested race of the city primary election held Tuesday when the official count was announced today by the board of elections.

Two disputed ballots were considered and allowed by the board, which met last night. Both ballots were Democratic and resulted in Harry W. Haberman, one of the three unsuccessful candidates for mayor, receiving two more votes, and G. R. Henney increasing his lead to 35 votes over J. C. Bonen for Fourth ward councilman.

In other contests, Frank J. Weber, the nominee for auditor, and J. Altman Raub each received one of the two votes and Theodore B. Ochs and Z. P. Davis split the extra ballots in their race for city solicitor. Ochs was nominated.

The close race between Tracy R. Allen and J. L. Landes for the Republican nomination as auditor was not changed, with Allen leading by 16 votes.

Coal Dealers Meet

At a luncheon meeting this noon in Hotel Harding, a group of Marion coal dealers discussed working hours as affected by NRA, but announced no decision. Members of the group said they are now operating under the blanket code.

Discussion of a state NRA code occupied a meeting of the Ohio Association of Crushed Stone Producers in Hotel Harding yesterday afternoon. These producers also announced that they are operating under the blanket code until action is taken by the recovery administration on the association's code.

Two interpretations of provisions of NRA codes were received today by Postmaster French Crow from Miss Mary Woods of Cleveland, Ohio NRA director.

Individual store owners who are considered managers, Miss Woods said, are exempt from the maximum hours restrictions of the program. It also has been ruled, she continued, that restaurants and hotels and similar places of business may make reasonable charges for food and room against the wages of their employes.

Shoe Repair Shops Adopt Code Here

Marion shoe repair shop operators today announced adoption of a wage and hour schedule, effective Monday in all but three shops here. The three shops, it was announced, are not taking action until a code for their trade is accepted in Washington, D. C.

In an agreement reached by members of the Marion Shoe Rebuilders' association, the following minimum wage scale was adopted: journeymen, $25 a week; finishers, $21 a week and apprentices, $12 a week. The work week will be confined to a maximum of 57 hours, W. O. Nippert, association president, said.

The local agreement will be operative, Nippert said, until adoption of a national code.

More Than 1,000 in Line at Cleveland

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 11 — More than 1,000 home owners who had stood in line for hours jammed the doors of the home owners loan corporation district offices today, seeking relief from the government.

Police were on hand to maintain order, but their only duty was to keep the block-long line of applicants for loans intact.

At the door, 200 at a time were permitted to enter and file applications. No applications were approved or even considered.

As the rush continued, Mr. McCaleb sent out an appeal for "more linguists" because the many languages spoken by applicants were delaying the clerks.

The family has asked that flowers be omitted.

3 KILLED IN AUTO CRASH AT HEBRON

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., Aug. 11—Three persons were dead today and two others were in a hospital with serious injuries after an automobile crashed into the side of a moving freight train in Hebron, near here.

The dead: Harold Galloway, 18; his brother, John, 19, and a sister, Imogene, 14.

The injured were Mrs. Chloe Galloway, 43, mother of the victims, and Harvey Galloway, 5. Mrs. Galloway's home is at Summit station, in Licking county.

Witnesses said that Harold, who was driving, apparently lost control of the automobile.

REPORT POULTRY TRUCK HI-JACKED

By The Associated Press

NAPOLEON, O., Aug. 11—A truck hauling 84 crates of poultry was hi-jacked near Findlay early today, according to a story told authorities by Luther Reiser, 25, and Philips Salvia, 23, both of Cleveland, who were in charge of the trucks.

The pair told police they were stopped by several men, taken from their truck, blindfolded and then hauled through the country until 5 a. m., when they were released near Grand Rapids, O.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 — There's a young miss at the national recovery administration who wants to know if she's hired or fired.

Anyway, she has worked three weeks and there's been no pay.

It happened this way—

The young lady completed typing her application for a clerical job with the NRA. In bustled an executive.

"Take this letter," he commanded. She did and several more.

A second executive sent her on an errand. Thus began three weeks work, ten hours a day.

Now the NRA finds no record that she was hired.

OBJECTS TO POINTS IN NEWSPAPER CODE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 — Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, today said there were "proposals which are unsatisfactory" in the proposed code of hours and wages submitted by the American Newspaper Publishers association.

Johnson declined at a press conference to intimate what section he considered objectionable, but said the publishers representatives were due at his office some time today to talk over the program.

It has been intimated in sources close to Johnson that he feels there are too many reservations in the newspaper code and that he objects to its failure to specify short hours for reporters and copy editors.

COMMISSION FIXES MILK PRICE SCALE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 11 Producers and distributors of milk in the Cleveland area today were doing business on a price scale fixed by the state milk commission.

The price was set on request of the two groups who were unable to agree upon a scale to be effective during the remainder of August or until a permanent marketing code is formulated.

The commission allowed slight increases in the amount the distributors shall pay the producers, but stipulated that the scale must not affect retail prices.

On class 1 fluid milk, the wholesale price was set at $2.00 per 100 pounds, class 2 at $1.50, and class 3 $1.30, seventy-five per cent of the supply must be accepted as class 1 milk.

3 YOUTHS HELD AS HITCH-HIKE BANDITS

Arrested at Cambridge After Two Victims Are Robbed of Money, Clothes.

By The Associated Press

CAMBRIDGE, O., Aug. 11 Three youths who stripped hitchhikers of their clothing and left them tied to a tree while they fled were held in county jail today. They admitted, Sheriff Tom Gracy said, to preying on young men who solicited free rides from them on highways in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

The youths, Gracy said, gave their names as Donald Mowery, 18, and Merl Richards, 25, both of Fort Wayne, Ind., and James Gallgher, 27, of New Jersey. The sheriff said they signed confessions to robbing Frank Eckert, 21, of Boston and Charles Medley, 22, of Rickeyville, Pa., of their money and clothes near here and would be charged with highway robbery.

The youths had about $7 or $8 and a large supply of old clothes when arrested at Wheeling, W. Va., at the request of Sheriff Gracy. They used a toy pistol in forcing their victims to comply with their demands, Gracy said.

The trio gave no reason for their peculiar robbery tactics but said they usually took a hitch-hikers clothing whenever they could not find a profitable amount of money.

Eckert and Medley reported to Sheriff Gracy Tuesday that they were robbed by three men who gave them a ride near here, then turned up a side road and stripped them. Before they left, they tied Eckert and Medley to a tree. The victims escaped and made their way without clothing, to a farm house.

Some Points About NRA Made Clear

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Aug 11—What does the NRA mean?

The following questions were developed and answered today by the national recovery administration

Is Sunday considered a legal holiday by the NRA as it affects the maximum hours a person may work each week?

A legal holiday is one that is observed as such by the state in which the employment is located Under the spirit of the NRA officials believe Sunday can not be construed as such.

Are men delivering from store to store and men delivering from store to customer both classified as delivery men?

Yes The necessity for delivery is considered the same in both cases

Under the retail merchant's code how long is an employe expected to work on Saturday?

Eight hours

Does the NRA consider any stigma attached to taking away the blue eagle from one who has signed a code

No It will be just as though they never had a blue eagle and NRA officials believe that is enough

When the blue eagle is taken away can it ever be restored?

No

Who has the authority for taking the blue eagle away from a firm or individual?

Administrator Hugh S Johnson must have the record presented to him to determine just what the issues are and he decides whether or not the eagle will be called back

Can a retail store open less than 52 hours a week before July 1 1933 reduce the store hours at all?

No

Are retail stores with two or less employes which keep open only the minimum number of hours required fulfilling their part?

Yes

Are there any figures available as to how many people have sent in their certificates of compliance under the President's reemployment agreement?

No The NRA proposes to wait until the period is up and then make such a survey

"Sock on Nose" Loses Election Contest for Judge

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE Ky Aug 11 — A sock on the nose indirectly led to the defeat of Circuit Judge William R Prewitt of Mt Sterling who conducted several of the murder trials arising from Harlan county's mine labor disorders of 1931 It happened this way, according to D B Caudill, the successful candidate

Caudill, who was defeated by Judge Prewitt six years ago had told him he did not intend to run this year While at Frenchburg on the last day for filing candidacies he had a dispute with a Prewitt adherent, who he said struck him on the nose and knocked him down

Infuriated Caudill said he returned to his home at Morehead telephoned Judge Prewitt and told him he had decided to file He hastily prepared his papers and sent a special messenger to Frankfort before the deadline for filing with the secretary of state

Caudill filed for both the Republican and Democratic nominations Prewitt had filed in the Democratic race only The final count in the district which includes Montgomery Bath Menifee and Rowan counties today revealed Caudill had won the Democratic nomination by 185 votes giving him the judgeship

Danger Line

(Will Rogers Special)

SANTA MONICA, Cal Aug 11 Everybody knows Mr Roosevelt don't want any armed trouble with Cuba or anybody else but when you start telling somebody what they must do why you got to back it up with something

You can't tell the bully to quit picking on the boy unless you are prepared to do something to him in case he don't quit picking on him

Trouble is we never did get Cuba plum free we kept a clause in the contract where we were to remain the guardian Take the sugar out of Cuba and the sugar out of the Philippines and our altruistic feelings would kinder cool off

SENATOR ASSAILS VETS' PAY CUTS

By The Associated Press

FINDLAY O Aug 11 — Addressing a mass meeting of war veterans last night Senator Arthur Robinson Republican of Indiana, termed the economy act's effect on veterans the most brutal, utterly indefensible act ever passed by a cowardly congress"

He declared the measure in its effect on veterans should be repealed at the next session of congress and said he favored immediate payment of the veterans bonus There will be no justice he asserted until the inequalities of this act are repealed

REPORTED IMPROVING

Mrs Stanley Wormell of Mt Gilead who underwent an abdominal operation two weeks ago in St Anthony's hospital at Columbus is reported to be improving.

For absorbing vibrations an automobile seat cushion that does not sag like other cushions has been made of a top layer of very porous live sponge rubber supported by a denser lower layer

WE WOMEN MUST KEEP OUR YOUTH

OH, bother these days! Staying young is really very simple ... if you know your carbohydrates and minerals, your proteins and vitamins These are the vital elements Nature so generously stores in whole wheat. And you can have them every one, in delicious golden-brown biscuits ... Shredded Wheat.

It's the very food of youth! Its whole wheat with nothing added or taken away. Ready cooked, ready to eat. Yes, ready to serve in many delightful ways ... with milk or cream with fresh or preserved fruit.

Try it tomorrow, and the next day, try it for at least ten pleasant meals Perhaps you'll find, as millions have that it's youth ... by the bowlful!

When you see Niagara Falls on the package, you KNOW you have Shredded Wheat.

Mann Tells of Need To Protect City's Investment In Park Lands.

...simply a group of in... Dr Mann said and on... ...e of these individuals ...e nsibility of the city's ... If a proper spirit of ...ership by them and pub... ... aroused, he said, ... be a great improve... ...Marion's outward appear...

...Mann's talk was the second of a three-meeting series with speakers furnished by the Council of 100. He is chairman of the council's committee on "General Appearance of the City." Last week the club heard a group of talks on civic pride and next week will be addressed by Mrs W N Harder chairman of the council's committee on "Visitors."

The plight of the city's parks was referred to by Dr Mann. With no funds set aside by city council for maintenance and upkeep Dr Mann asserted it was foolish to put money into equipment and property. He urged the club to contact councilmen and urge that an appropriation be provided to insure protection and upkeep of the city's investment in parks.

This investment Dr Mann said represents more than $150,000 in 120 acres of parkland.

Dr Mann asked the Kiwanians to advertise Marion when traveling and to praise its qualities when contacting strangers. In order to be able to do this properly, he said it is necessary to adopt measures of improvement in each home and as a result in the city as a whole.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, August 12

THIS DAY may be notable for successful negotiations with large corporations, mergers, secret societies or diplomatic circles in spite of many stubborn obstacles or frustrating circumstances, according to the planetary configurations. It may be advisable to confine activities to these channels or through methods of strategem or tact lest there be financial hazard. However, elderly persons or institutions may be found to have a friendly disposition and render substantial aid.

Those whose birthday it is are advised that their best chances for the year will be in dealing with mergers, rings, large corporations or secret bodies or by methods of strategy, diplomacy or intrigue. There is a menace of financial loss also a sign of encouragement or solid help from elderly persons or institutions.

A child born on this day will be steady and industrious inclined to gain its ends by tact, diplomacy or shrewdness.

NEW PHILLY'S SCRIP NOT VERY POPULAR

Public Fails To Cooperate, So City Council Calls in Entire Issue.

By The Associated Press

NEW PHILADELPHIA O Aug 11—New Philadelphia has given up its scrip

Failure of the general public to cooperate in accepting the substitute for money brought city council to its decision to call all of it in

The scrip was issued last February as a means of doing for the city what President Roosevelt is trying to do for the country at large through the NRA

Only $1,060 of it was issued that has been redeemed and many of those who received it have found it good for little except as scrap paper material

In announcing that the scrip would be paid in full, council ordered that the scrip be presented for redemption on or before Nov 1

That date will allow time for the end of Nov for the public to exchange the stamps which were required on the scrip

Patience, Lots of It, Needed in Training of Circus Horses

Patience is the watchword and a goodly supply of it must have been very essential in the training of 16 liberty or "rotation" horses, for horses, let it be known are just as moody as the most temperamental prima-donna

This circus the owners report, contracted with John T. Benson American representative of the famous Hagenback trained animal farms of Stellington Germany, for a group of 16 "rotation" horses for the five thousand perfectly good American dollars—half of the horses to be chestnuts and the other half grays and none to be over the five year age limit. First of all the horses had to be perfectly matched in pairs and of pedigreed stock for animals with a superior brain proved to be more susceptible to the art of the wily trainer. It required just eight months of difficult scout duty by the Hagenback lieutenants before 16 perfectly matched horses were obtained and even the sacred precincts of the Kaisers private stables were invaded in the quest, according to the account given by the circus management

After 14 months' post graduate course they were proclaimed by the world's most competent horsemen to be trained to the very highest degree of perfection and ready for their American debut with Dill's circus, where they are now presenting a series of astounding evolutions and maneuvers.

Sam B Dill's circus exhibits at Marion Thursday, Aug 17, afternoon and night, and an entire mounted section of the street parade is comprised of this famous battalion of thoroughbreds.

"Keep cool with crisp, light foods"

EVERY ONE has had the experience of eating a heavy meal on a hot day and of feeling loggy and uncomfortable afterwards. In truth, food plays a big part in how we feel.

Crisp, light foods naturally help you feel cooler and fresher. That's why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are so popular when the thermometer begins to climb. Millions of people know Kellogg's mean coolness.

There's good reason too. Kellogg's are crisp, refreshing flakes of corn. Rich in energy—so easy to digest they don't "heat you up." Economical, convenient—no cooking or trouble to prepare.

Countless mothers serve Kellogg's Corn Flakes for the children's evening meal—particularly in summer. It's the kind of light meal that encourages restful sleep.

And no matter how hot or humid the weather, you'll always find Kellogg's crisp and oven-fresh . . . protected by the sealed inside WAXTITE bag. Every package that leaves Battle Creek is guaranteed.

Answers To Questions on Wheat Plan

Editor's Note: This is the second of three articles explaining in question and answer form details of the voluntary domestic allotment plan now being put into effect for wheat.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—Can a producer who signs an allotment contract stop raising wheat?

No. He must seed the acreage based on his average yield in recent years needed to produce his farm's allotment.

• • •

What would happen to a producer who signed and who because of unfavorable weather, could not seed winter wheat?

In some areas he could seed spring wheat. If he does not seed such acreage as is necessary to produce his farm allotment in terms of average yield, he must return payments made to him.

• • •

Must a producer withhold from sale a part of all of his wheat crop until given permission to sell?

No.

• • •

If the producer's farm is mortgaged must the mortgagee sign the contract?

Not unless he received a part of the crop as payment on the mortgage.

• • •

If a farm is sold is the purchaser bound after a contract has been signed?

Yes.

• • •

What is the farm allotment?

That number of bushels of wheat upon which adjustment payments may be made to the producer supplementing what the producer obtains from it in the markets. It is intended to represent the farmer's share in the wheat required for domestic human consumption.

• • •

Will the farm allotment be changed each year?

No. The 1933 allotment will remain unchanged during the 1934-35 crop year, except for correction of errors.

JUST SPRINKLE IN TO END SOAP WASTE

Hard water wastes soap because the soap cannot dissolve. Stop this waste! Just sprinkle Climalene into the dishwater. It softens water, cuts grease, you use just ½ the soap. You get foamier, richer, more lasting suds.

Your dishes wink and twinkle as for some gay party. It makes clothes whiter, too. Your grocer has Climalene. The Climalene Co., Canton, Ohio.

Gasco and Erie Battle Seven Innings to 0-0 Tie

PARMELEE GIVES BUT TWO HITS AS GIANTS SUBMERGE PHILS, 4-0

New York Nationals and Washington Americans Both Stretch Leads.

The name of Leroy (Bud) Parmelee, the big "freshman" flinger, already has been placed near the top of the list of reasons why the New York Giants are leading the National league. But the young right hander who led the American Association with Columbus last season, still is seeking the no-hit game he has approached at least twice this season.

In the first start, Parmelee allowed the Phillies only one hit for a 2 to 1 victory. Yesterday he came just about as close to his perfect game as he blanked the same team with two safeties to win 4 to 0. In between he has hurled a couple of four-hit games and established himself as one of the outstanding young hurlers by winning 10 games and losing only five in 22 appearances on the hill.

Parmelee in Form

For seven innings yesterday Parmelee didn't give a hit, allowed only one walk and hit one batsman as he burned in his fast ball where the batters couldn't see it.

The Giants got two of their runs on George Davis' homer in the fifth and the other pair on timely swats against Snipe Hansen.

The victory increased New York's lead to 3½ games over Pittsburgh as the Pirates' battle with the Chicago Cubs, the only other game on the National league schedule, was rained out.

Washington made the same improvement in their position in the American league standing, boosting their lead over the New York Yankees to 3½ games with a 5-3 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. Rain halted the Yankees' game with Philadelphia's Athletics after the pitchers had warmed up to start.

Nats Beat Sox

The Senators, as usual, found the Red Sox tough customers, but after trailing 3-0 in the fourth, came back to get the customary victory as Al Crowder and Jack Russell prevented any serious hitting.

The Chicago White Sox advanced to threaten the fourth place rivals, Detroit and Cleveland, by beating the Tigers, 6 to 3 in the other game of the program. The victory left Chicago only two games back of Detroit and a half game behind the Cleveland Indians, who bracketed with St. Louis, had an open date.

HAUGHN'S BARBERS TO PLAY SUNDAY

Haughn's Barbers will travel to Little Sandusky Sunday for a ball game at that place. The game is called for 2:30 p. m.

Young and Johnson will make up the battery for the Barbers. I. Moses and K. Culver will do the pitching and catching for Little Sandusky.

W. & D. Team Drops 4-2 Game to Serv - U - Wel

Steam Shovel Subdues C., D. & M., 7-3 and Star Dropped by Huber Company, 4-2.

The Industrial softball league officially completed its circular campaign yesterday but the championship is just about as far from being decided as it was when the season started. The race was thrown into a more muddled up affair than ever yesterday when the Erie Traffic and Gasco clubs met and battled seven innings before calling it a day with the score 0-0. While the railroad and utilities teams were waging their long but futile battle, the Serv-U-Wel Grocers were going what they could to retain their slim chance at the championship by grabbing a 4-2 decision from Walters & Disbennett in the final game for both teams.

In the other games, neither of which affected the top in any way, the Huber Manufacturing Co. marked up a 4-2 victory over The Star and the Marion Steam Shovel took the C., D. & M. Electricians into camp, 7-3.

Brilliant Duel

Dale Schwaderer and Don Shoemaker waged the tightest hurling duel seen in Marion this season as the Erie and Gasco battled through seven scoreless innings. Schwaderer allowed just two singles, struck out eight men and handed out two free passes to first base. Shoemaker was touched for three hits, one double and two singles, struck out one and didn't walk a man. The Erie never advanced a man past first base, four reaching the initial sack. The Gasco shoved three men to third and had one thrown out in an attempt to score. A total of seven men got on base.

The game was the second tie contest in a row for the Gasco club. On Wednesday of this week the Gasco was held to a 5-5 deadlock by the Huber company.

Aided by Bob Peadon's puzzling left handed tosses and a home run wallop by Kenneth Somerlot, the Serv-U-Wel Grocers turned in their tenth victory against Walters & Disbennett. Peadon baffled the losers all the way with his portside slants, allowing only three hits, all of them coming in the last two innings. He twirled no-hit ball the first five frames. Meanwhile the Grocers jumped on Woody Walters for six hits and four runs. Somerlot's circuit blow came in the third frame with one mate aboard.

By winning yesterday the Serv-U-Wel retained a possible chance for the championship. The Gasco club has two more games to play while the Grocers are through. Should the Gasco lose both, the crown will go to the Serv-U-Wel. Should the Gasco split the race will end in a tie, necessitating a play-off. Two victories for the Gasco will give it clear claim to the championship.

Displaying the exact opposite of the form shown the preceding day against the Serv-U-Wel The Marion Star nine was handed the short end of a 4-2 score by the Huber. Despite the fact they combed Bennie Crabtree for eight hits while Eddie Mautz and Francis Robbins were allowing only five, the Publishers were not able to get out in front at any time. Slow play in the outfield cost the ball game for The Star.

The Marion Steam Shovel bombarded Harold Kochensperger for nine hits and seven runs to take a 7-3 victory. Johnny Cook limited the Electrians to six hits. He was in difficulty in the fourth inning when the C., D. & M. bunched four hits to score three times. After that uprising subsided, Cook had little difficulty in holding the foe in check.

DUTRA ELIMINATED FROM PRO TOURNEY

Defending Champ Loses But Powerful Field Still in Title Fight.

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 11—Gone was Olin Dutra, the defending titleholder, but surving forward were six powerful contenders and a pair of die hards of the "dark horse" ranks as the long struggle for the national professional golf championship headed toward the semi-finals at Blue Mound today.

Leading the dwindling field were Gene Sarazen, dead serious in his quest to land a major title after losing the American and British open championships, and Johnny Farrell, famed stylist from New York, who toppled Dutra off his throne yesterday in a thrilling match that ended with a conquest over a partial stymie on the thirty-sixth hole.

Both Sarazen and Farrell had lively engagements ahead of them today in the quarter-finals of the lower bracket, Gene meeting Ed Dudley, a noted performer from Wilmington, Del., and Farrell clashing with one of the most stubborn foemen of golf, Johnny Golden of Noroton, Conn.

The other quarter-final matches also promised action. Johnny Hines of New York, co-medalist, matched shots against Tom Creavy of Albany, N. Y., 1931 champion, and Paul Runyan, Ryder cup star and big money winner in last winter's campaign, tackled Willie Goggin, 20-year-old distance marksman from Salada Beach, Calif.

Sarazen, shooting sub-par, advanced with a 4 and 3 victory over Harry Cooper of Chicago. Hines survived by defeating Henry Picard of Charleston, S. C., 5 and 3; Goggin eliminated Al Espinosa of Akron, O., 9 and 7, the most one-sided victory of the day; Creavy defeated Frank Walsh of Chicago, 1932 finalist, 2 and 1; Golden turned back Bobby Cruickshank in a tight struggle, 2 and 1; Dudley defeated Clarence Clark of Bloomfield, N. J., 3 and 1, and Runyan, one down at noon, came back to eliminate young Johnny Revolta of Menominee, Mich., 2 and 1.

3 Ohioans in Race.

LAKEWIDE, O., Aug. 11—Only three Ohioans were among the eight players who today began the quarter finals of the men's singles in the northern Ohio senior tennis tournament.

THE OLD CHAMP AND THE NEW

His middleweight crown snatched from his head, Ben Jeby lies in a pathetic heap on the canvas as the fatal seconds are ticked off in the seventh round to end his championship bout with Lou Brouillard at New York Polo grounds. Below is the new champion, a native of Canada, now resident in Worcester, Mass. He formerly held the welterweight title. (International News photo).

BROUILLARD WILLING TO HELP CLEAN UP DISPUTE OVER TITLE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 -- Young Lucien Brouillard, of Worcester, Mass., the first southpaw fighter in ring annals to win two titles, has an upstanding suggestion to make as to how he can clear all question of his right to the second one.

Brouillard, who won and lost the welterweight championship over a period of two title fights when he was 20 years old, just two years ago, belted Ben Jeby in the stomach until that young man pulled his guard down in the Polo grounds Wednesday night, then nailed him with one finishing left to the jaw in the seventh round.

Jeby was recognized by the New York state athletic commission as middleweight champion of the world. The National Boxing association considers Gorilla Jones of Akron, O., the champion and overseas the Europeans have set up Marcel Thil of France, as the 160-pound ruler.

Brouillard addressed himself to the N. B. A. today.

"If the National Boxing association will name an opponent and agree to recognize the winner as their champion, I'll fight him any time they say," he announced belligerently. "Then I'll fight Thil and we'll have just one champion. After that I want to fight Maxie Rosenbloom for the light heavyweight title."

Brouillard has agreed to two matches here under the promotion of Tim Mara, who introduced him to New York the night he whipped Jimmy McLarnin, and then gave him his chance against Jeby.

Softball Sked for The Week

FRIDAY
Commercial League

Prospect vs. Kappas at Lincoln.
Masons vs. K. of P. at Garfield.
Eagles vs. Salem at M. S. S.
Presbie A. C. vs. St. Paul at Harding.

FIRST REFORMED TO PLAY NIGHT GAME

First Reformed Sunday school, a contender for the No. 2 church league championship in Marion, will attempt to add to its laurels on an out-of-town diamond Saturday in a night game at Gibsonburg. The Marion club will meet the Gibsonburg Cleaners and Dyers. Gibsonburg is located near Fremont.

After a long series of tests aviation engineers have decided that 500 miles an hour is the highest possible speed for an airplane with wings now in use.

PROTEST REHEARING REQUESTED BY K. OF P.

Lodge Team Asks Further Action on Defeat by Kappas.

Despite the fact the city commission once ruled against it, Carroll Davidson, manager of the K. of P. softball team of the Commercial league, has requested a rehearing on the protest filed against a recent defeat by the Kappas. W. M. Fabian, president of the commission, indicated today that the request would be granted and that a hearing would be held sometime next week, probably Thursday or Friday.

Fabian pointed out, however, that should the Kappas win their final game of the season today against the Prospect Merchants, there would be no reason for giving the protest any further consideration. A Kappa victory today would give the fraternity team the championship, regardless of what was done with the protested game.

France has become the second largest producer of motorcycles, ranking next to Great Britain and being followed by Germany and the United States.

BLACK PANTHER AND MARTINO ANGELO TO FEATURE MAT SHOW

George Gunther and Scotty McNaught, Both Newcomers, in Semi-Final.

One of the most popular grapplers that has ever appeared in Marion will again invade the open air arena here next Monday night.

The Black Panther they call him and he's all of that. He's appeared here many times and has always given fans a real run for their money.

He has been signed to headline next Monday's show, meeting Martino Angelo, the smashing Buffalo Italian, over the two best out of three falls, two-hour limit route.

This isn't the first time that Angelo and the Panther have met in a local ring but you can be sure it'll be just as good a battle as any of their previous battles here. These fellows are natural rivals and when they step on the wrestling pad there's always plenty doing.

Both have had their ups and downs on the local wrestling radius but both have compiled impressive records. The bouts each have lost here were registered by near champions.

The semi-final of next Monday's card is one of the most impressive staged here in some time.

It will present George Gunther of Baton Rouge, La., against Scotty McNaught of Montreal, Canada, two best out of three falls with a 45-minute time limit.

These men are middleweights and come here with great reputations.

Gunther is a protege of Gus Kallio, world's middleweight champion. Kallio discovered him in the cotton field of his native state, and developed him to the point where he is one of the better middleweights in the game.

McNaught is holder of the middleweight championship of Canada and is in the states on a tour with Ernie Arthurs, welterweight title holder of Canada and well known in Marion through several appearances here.

Case No. 11959

LEGAL NOTICE
In the Matter of David John Baird, Bankrupt. Case No. 9161.
In pursuance to an order of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, Western Division, to me issued, I will expose for sale at public auction on the premises in the Village of Caledonia, Ohio, at 10 o'clock A. M., on the 19th day of August, 1933, the following described real estate, formerly owned by David John Baird, a bankrupt
Situated in the County of Marion, State of Ohio, and in the Village of Caledonia, bounded and described as follows, to-wit:
Commencing at the stockyards on the C., C., C. & St. L. Ry., on a line of right of way of said company, running Northeast on line of said C., C., C. & St. L. Ry. Co's Line to a point eighteen (18) rods more or less, thence south parallel with lands owned by Irey to an oak tree; thence south in center of street to lands owned by Butts, now M. Hart, forty-three (43) rods more or less, thence west on line of Butts, now M Hart, seventeen (17) rods, more or less, to Clark's land; thence North on line of Clark's land to stockyards of C., C., C. & St. L. Ry. Co's forty and one-half (40½) rods more or less, thence on line of said stockyards of C., C., C. & St. L. Ry. Co. to the place of beginning, containing five (5) acres, more or less, being part of the southwest quarter of section one (1), Claridon Township Marion County, Ohio, excepting therefrom the following described real estate
Situated in the County of Marion, in the State of Ohio, and in the Village of Caledonia, and bounded and described as follows Commencing at a point on the East line of the C., C., C. & St L Ry Co's stockyards and at a point on the south line of said C., C., C. & St. L Ry Co's right of way, thence northeast along the south line of said C., C., C & St L Ry Co's right of way, one Hundred (100) feet; thence south seventy (70) feet, thence southwest and parallel with the south line of the C., C., C. & St. L. Ry Co's right of way one hundred (100) feet to a point on the East line of said stockyards, thence north seventy (70) feet to the place of beginning.
The above described real estate is known as Tract No. 1, in the Petition filed herein, asking for the sale of said premises and is located on the South side of the Big Four Railroad track, and is the first house West of what is known as the Monnette & Cleveland elevator; the buildings on said premises consist of a seven-room dwelling house, barn and poultry house.
Said premises have been appraised at $2,250 00 and will be sold for cash to the highest bidder, subject to the confirmation of the United States District Court

FLASHES OF LIFE
By The Associated Press

OAKLAND, Calif. — Police questioned the judgment of Leonard Duarte, 19, in selecting the back yard of Mary Pacheco's home as a place for target practice.
Miss Pacheco, 17, said the crack of Leonard's revolver as he fired away at cans kept reminding her that she broke their engagement a week ago.
Duarte will have to explain to the judge.

UNIONTOWN, Pa.—Down from his mountain home, John P. Gleason, a tall man with flowing white beard, received a clamorous welcome from striking miners
Thoroughly bewildered, Gleason heard the strikers shout "We want come governor!"
Gleason, nicknamed "Pinchot" by some of his friends because of his resemblance to the governor of Pennsylvania, fled into the courthouse and obscurity.

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—The sight of hardy engineers working under the shelter of sunshades aroused not a few persons to tittering comment until County Engineer Radigan explained the umbrellas were for the protection of the instruments, not the men.
"The level instrument is so sensitive," Radigan said, "the effect of the rays of the sun would cause an error in the work."

WHEAT PRICES SKID LOWER

Market Falls Five Cents, Limit Allowed by Emergency Ruling.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 11—Wheat late today fell 5 cents a bushel to the bottommost point which emergency rules would permit for a single day's fluctuation.

Sensationally bullish crop reports from government sources fell flat as a market influence. Stop loss selling and lack of speculative buying support was much in evidence. Widespread notice was taken of advices that the grain exchange code submitted to Washington to govern futures trading was not acceptable to administration officials.

Wheat finished groggy at the day's extreme low point, 5 cents under the average of yesterday's closing quotations, corn 1⅞@2¼ down, oats 2¼@2¾ off, and provisions showing 7 to 12 cents decline.

PUBLIC ELIGIBLE IN BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

Entries Not Limited, Directors of Contract Competition Announce.

The contract bridge tournament Aug. 15 and 17 in the Marion club in Hotel Harding, is open to any players in Marion who wish to enter, those in charge announced this morning.

The announcement came as the result of a widespread belief that Marion entries were to be limited to members of the club.

H. D. Maddox of New York City, one of the world's ranking players, will complete arrangements for the tournament over the week-end. Mr. Maddox is directing the tournament under the club's auspices.

Dr. C. J. Altmaier, Roman Knecht, Dan LaMarche and Wilfred Schaffner are in charge of the public ticket sale.

ROTARY SECRETARY AT CEDAR POINT

J. Wendell Wiant, secretary of the Rotary club, is in Cedar Point at the annual assembly of presidents and secretaries of the twenty-first Rotarian district. He is expected to return home today. About 200 delegates are attending the two-day session.

President Roosevelt's "New Deal" was likened to the spirit of the Rotary club by Arch Kumph of Cleveland, past national president of Rotary in his address before the delegates.

BOYS TO SEE BALL GAME AT COLUMBUS

Eighty-Five To Make Trip as Guests of Red Birds at Stadium.

Final plans were completed today to send 85 boys from the Y. M. C. A. playgrounds to Columbus Saturday as guests at a double-header baseball game between the Columbus and St. Paul teams of the American association.

The boys and drivers are asked to meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 11:45 a. m. Anyone wishing to drive a group of the boys to the game are asked to inform C. Carl May, boys' work secretary of the Y. Admission privileges will be extended the drivers.

Boys making the trip have been selected from the playground lists because of having qualified for honors.

BOOKKEEPER HALTS SUSPECTED RACKET

Sewing Machine Office Employe Refuses Request of Man for Change.

A suspected attempt at a short-change trick at the Singer Sewing Machine Co. store at 140 East Center street failed yesterday when the store's bookkeeper indicated she was aware of the attempt.

A man who had purchased a sewing machine attachment and had been given change from a $10 bill asked Miss Peg Weinandy, the bookkeeper, if she would give him a $5 bill in return for four one-dollar bills and four quarters.

Suspecting the man was the same one who had victimized Detroit stores of the company, and about whom she had been warned, Miss Weinandy refused to comply with the request, which she feared would lead to other transfers of money in an attempt to confuse her. The man then left the store hurriedly, Miss Weinandy said.

The man's appearance, Miss Weinandy said, tallied closely with that of the man about whom she had been warned. He appeared about 26 years of age, and about five feet, nine inches tall.

AUTO CRASH BRINGS SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Dale F. Allread Names Four in Action for $1,000 in Court Here.

Damages amounting to $1,000 are asked in a suit filed in common pleas court today by Dale F. Allread against Claire Ridgway, Bernard Rosebrook, Argel Herrick and Harold S. Rooks.

The amount is sought for personal injuries and damages to his automobile as a result of a collision July 15 on the Harding highway west of Marion.

Allread charges that Ridgway, the driver of the other car, and his companions did not have proper control over their automobile.

Attorney Henry Mickley filed the petition.

Sues for Divorce

Doris LaVern Foss of 174 South Main street filed suit in common pleas court today asking a divorce from Adrian Curtis Foss of 1106 Fourth street, Portsmouth.

The petition charges gross neglect. She says that since they were married in Toledo in 1923, she was forced to work in order to maintain their home. She also asks that she be restored to her maiden name of Doris LaVern Rhoads. Attorney W. Dexter Hazen represents the plaintiff.

Foreclosures Asked

Charles D. Schaffner, receiver for the Citizens' Building & Loan Co., filed foreclosure suits in common pleas court this morning seeking judgments against Clifford G. McIntire and others for $2,385.45 and against the Jones Realty Co. and others for $3,587.19. The law firm of Carhart, Warner and Carhart represented the receiver.

Approval Granted

In the court action brought by L. D. Zachman against the Citizens' Building & Loan Co., Charles D. Schaffner as receiver applied for permission to exchange a lot in LaRue, involved in the suit, for $1,200 in deposits in the loan company owned by Lauretta E. Sheckler of LaRue. Common Pleas Judge George B. Scofield ordered the transfer.

A marriage license was issued in probate court this morning to Kenneth Midlam, metallurgist of Latrobe, Pa., and Emma Jean Baker, teacher, of 200 Hane avenue.

ABOUT ANYTHING

IN AND AROUND MARION

Take One Along

If you see members of the fairer sex treking Chicagoward carrying one of those gaily-colored, roomy old-fashioned shopping bags, be not misled. They're not to fill with pretty souvenirs for the rest of the family and the entire neighborhood. They're just the thing to tuck away the old standby pair of shoes to don when vanity reaches a new low and comfort means everything in the world. If you are contemplating a trip to the Century of Progress don't overlook this bet. They're on the counters in Marion stores.

• • •

A Smart Outfit

A smart outfit was the checked gingham dress with a little excuse of a hat after the fez fashion, of the same material, seen on a young girl in a downtown store. She'd read her fashion books well, for her white gloves had wide, cavalier cuffs of the gingham.

• • •

Happy Family

The baby wasn't more than a month old, and the proud young father was carrying him, maybe it was her, in the "handle with care" manner which makes it so obvious to onlookers that the baby is the first blessed event.

Mamma, daddy and baby were on a shopping trip. They were looking for a "juvenile" department to buy the baby all manner of toys and gadgets. Nothing infantile about that baby.

Hand-Me-Downs

Hand-me-down spectacles are another one. The husband is beginning to feel the need of glasses for reading fine print and his wife who already wears spectacles needs a new pair. Hers fit him perfectly except that the bows are a little short and so when she gets her new eyes she is to inherit the old ones. Until that far they take turns about reading newspapers and magazines.

WARNING RECEIVED BY HAIRDRESSERS

Members of the Marion Hairdressers union have been warned of a man posing as a state inspector who has been victimizing shops in Warren and Akron.

In a notice to Mrs. Gladys David Keller, president of the Marion union, the Ohio Association of Hairdressers said the man uses the name of F. J. Rogers. He is tall, dark complexioned and well dressed, the notice said. He is said to ask payment in return for a favorable report on the inspection. Operators are asked to notify police if approached by a man answering this description.

COUNTY BANK GROUP MEETS

Bucyrus Man Elected President of Association at Meeting in Crestline.

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Aug. 11—Cleo E. Gebhardt, cashier of the Bucyrus City bank, was elected president of the Crawford County Bankers' association at a meeting held in the high school building here Wednesday night.

Other officers elected are: vice president, Paul F. Hayes, cashier of the First National bank of Crestline; secretary-treasurer, Carl Lucas of the New Washington State bank. Bucyrus was chosen for the next quarterly meeting to be held in November. Paul Hayes presided.

B. B. Smith of the Cleveland Trust company was the speaker for the evening. After reviewing causes and results of the recent depression, he cited figures showing that business is today on the general upgrade. He said so far industrial recovery has been 48 per cent, other commodities 30 to 40 per cent, factory employment 16 per cent and factory payrolls 33 per cent.

"Recovery from the last depression," he said, "has been more swift than that of any previous depression." Dinner was served by the Dorcas Girls' society of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church to 70 members of the association.

FARM GROUP STUDIES NEW MARKET PLAN

Cooperative Poultry and Egg Sales Proposed in Hardin County.

Special to The Star

KENTON, Aug. 11—Possibility of establishing a poultry and egg commodity market in conjunction with other cooperative endeavors now under way in the Hardin county farm bureau was seen today following a committee tour of inspection of similar plants at Pandora, Napoleon and Tiffin.

A government grader would be used and the eggs sold would be offered under the farm bureau brand if the plan is approved. Farmers selling eggs would receive checks once a month upon the average amount received per dozen for the grade of eggs he offered during the 30-day period.

INJURED CHILD ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Two-Year-Old Girl Once in Critical Condition, Leaves Galion Hospital.

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 11 — Rosemary Greathouse, 2-year-old daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Glen Greathouse of the University of Maryland, at College Park, Md., was dismissed from Good Samaritan hospital yesterday, after being a patient at the hospital since Monday, July 31.

The child suffered a skull fracture on the morning of July 31, following a head-on automobile collision at Leesville. For a time physicians regarded her recovery as doubtful, but she was well on her way to complete recovery when dismissed from the local hospital.

The accident occurred when the car driven by her father collided with another car driven by T. L. Morrow of Leesville.

Neal Stewart, graduate student of the Maryland university, riding with the Greathouses, who sustained a concussion, was dismissed from the hospital a few days ago.

Court News of Adjoining Counties

UNION COUNTY

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 11—Through habeas corpus proceedings in the probate court on Thursday, Fred Andrews of Milford Center, was ordered released from the county jail by Judge L. W. Hazen on grounds that he was unlawfully detained and deprived of his liberty. Andrews had been arrested and fined in Justice John Clemans' court at Milford Center on a charge of fighting and fined $15 and costs. The fine was remitted and he was committed to jail and later released and rearrested and placed in jail without commitment papers.

Edna Evelyn Hager seeks a legal separation from Howard Otnel Hager on grounds of extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty.

Conservation Officer Lewis Fox on Thursday arrested Gerald Baldwin and Kelson Southard of York township, and placed them in the county jail on a charge of non-payment of their fines of $25 each for hunting without licenses last fall. The fines were assessed in Justice J. H. Kinkade's court, and they were released on promise of paying their fines.

CRAWFORD COUNTY

BUCYRUS, Aug. 11—County Auditor Clarence Metzger had reported the sale of but 74 licenses for dealing in cosmetics. This is against more than 200 dealers in the county, the auditor said.

Marriage licenses were issued in probate court Thursday to the following: Richard Croneis, Bucyrus, son of John and Mary Croneis and Mary L. Pierce, daughter of Chauncey and Mary Pierce; George E. Dauchenbaugh, laborer, Youngstown, son of John and Elizabeth Dauchenbaugh, and Virginia G. Greenich, Bucyrus, daughter of James and Gladys Greenich; LeRoy E. Rush, restaurant owner, Bucyrus, son of Daniel and Agnes Rush, and Mildred A. Kirk, daughter of Lawrence and Margaret Kirk, Bucyrus.

MORROW COUNTY

MT. GILEAD—Suit for divorce has been filed by Mrs. Martha Eliece Beardsley against Ralph H. Beardsley on grounds of desertion. She asks custody of their minor child and alimony for support of the child.

Partition of property has been ordered in the suit of Mary E. C. Quinn against Lyde Stone, Nana A. Leaming, Margaret A. Crowley, Myrtle Seckel and Velma McKibben. A farm of 120 acres in Congress township willed by R. F. Crothers is involved. Commissioners appointed are Homer Williams, Webb Goff and Ray Kidwell.

HARDIN COUNTY

KENTON—Claude Purdum of Marion was released from county jail Thursday upon settlement of an embezzlement claim of $160 against him by the Maytag Stores company. Purdum was accused of embezzling that amount while an employe of the Maytag company in October, 1930.

FIRES BUCYRUS SAFETY HEAD

Mayor Schuler, Defeated at Tuesday Primary, Makes First of "Drastic Changes."

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Aug. 11—Gus Goldsmith, city safety director during the 10-year regime of Mayor Arthur Schuler, former food inspector for the state, and a political power here for many years, was relieved of his duties by the mayor Wednesday. The discharge takes effect at once.

"As evidenced by the decisive vote Tuesday, the people of this city demand some drastic changes and I am beginning at once to put several in effect," the mayor wrote to Goldsmith.

No one will be appointed to the position at this time, Schuler has announced. Heads of departments at the City hospital will be responsible for their own branch of service until Jan. 1 when a new mayor will take office.

Goldsmith made no comment upon announcing receipts of the letter further than indicating that a statement would be forthcoming later.
